LAUGHING COW PRODUCTIONS (LCP)

Laughing Cow Productions (LCP) is an independent feature film production company founded in 2012 in Atlanta, Georgia, by Doug Bremner and Viola Vaccarino. Their first film, Inheritance, Italian Style, fully released in 2021, is now available on video-on-demand. The Goose That Laid the Golden Egg, is their second film.

THE GOOSE THAT LAID THE GOLDEN EGG – THE FILM

A psychiatrist risks all to expose a corrupt drug company.

Described as Erin Brockovich meets The Constant Gardener, THE GOOSE THAT LAID THE GOLDEN EGG is inspired by true events. The Renzon Pharmaceutical Company is making a billion dollars a year on their blockbuster miracle cure drug for acne, Carinaderm, and they aren't going to let anyone get in the way of their profits. So when Dr. Jack Forteo dares to question the potentially lethal side effect of suicide, they pull out the stops, accused him of fraud, and attacked him personally and professionally, leaving his marriage and career on the brink of disaster.

Drawn into the medication controversy as an unwilling participant, Jack learns that he must confront the lies and deception in his own life before he can confront the lies and deceptions of others. With nothing left to lose, he goes on a journey to revisit a tragedy from his own past. Along the way, he allies with Amanda Bellaconda, the mother of a teenage suicide victim who is the major plaintiff in ongoing litigation with Renzon where Dr. Forteo is an expert witness. Johnny unearths more painful secrets and deceptions in his own history that parallel those he had discovered in the pharmaceutical company, and his voyage of self-discovery gave him the strength to resume his struggle, leading to the ultimate tumultuous conclusion.

“The Goose That Laid the Golden Egg”

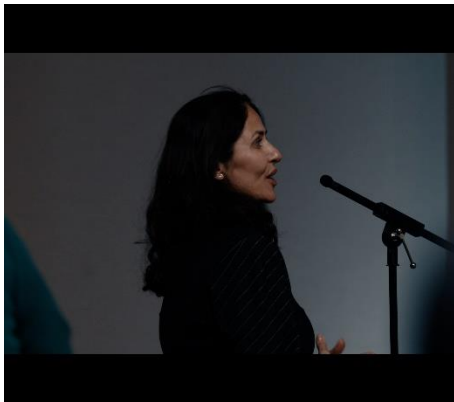

Doug Bremner- writer, director, producer

Doug is a professor, psychiatrist, researcher, filmmaker and writer, and co-founder with his wife Viola of Laughing Cow Productions in 2012. In addition to having written a string of papers published in scientific journals and books on a series of topics, he is a clinical psychiatrist and researcher at Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia. Psychiatrists make great screenwriters, of course, as they know a lot about sociopaths, neurotics, and addicts, and therefore can create the kinds of characters that people want to watch in movies. As a screenwriter he was a quarterfinalist in the 2011 PAGE International Screenwriters Awards for Inheritance, Italian Style, the 2024 Immagina Film Festival of Florence for The Goose That Laid the Golden Egg, a quarterfinalist in the 2024 Palm Springs International Film Festival and a finalist in the 2012 Charleston International Film Festival Screenwriting Competition for his screenplay based on a true story in Georgia, Murder Without Death. His first film, Inheritance, Italian Style was his first film and is now available on video-on-demand. He is the author of multiple books, including The Goose That Laid the Golden Egg, a critically acclaimed nonfiction book based on his experiences as an expert witness in litigation related to the safety of the acne medication, Accutane. He lives in Atlanta, Georgia, with his wife and son, who is also an actor, and have one grown daughter.
